This particular episode actually made me depressed knowing that i will probably die sad and alone. But a very beautiful love story anyways.

Please Google, invent San Junipero. I don't want to live in the real world anymore.

This episode actually helped me get over a break up. I was really down about it, then I saw this and was like "Man, fuck that!" I WILL have an amazing love story like this one day because I deserve it." This ep just gave me so much more hope in love. I'm just a Yorkie looking for my Kelly.
